VARIANCE CRITERIA

(VARIANCE FROM ARTICLE V SECTION 5.03.4(A))

Tax Map Parcel 43-61

Ponemah Hill Road, Milford, NH

September 19, 2019

Prepared For:

Ponemah Pines, LLC

A Variance is requested under Section 5.03.4(A) of the Milford Zoning Ordinance to permit the construction of an 18-Unit Multifamily Residential Building on the subject property. The subject parcel consists of 1.94 acres of land and is situated in the Residence "B" District. Article 5 Section 5.03.4(A) of the Zoning Ordinance deals with multi-family residences in the Residence "B" district and more specifically the allowed densities.

The subject property consists of approximately 1.94 acres of land and has frontage along Ponemah Hill Road. The property is currently vacant but is surrounded by higher density developments including a 52 unit mobile home park to the south and east, a 22 unit multi-family residential development to the north and a 36 unit multi-family residential development to the west.

Our client would like to develop the subject property into an 18-Unit Multifamily Residential Building. The underlying zoning only permits a density of 5 units per acre, or 9.7 units so we are seeking relief to allow an increased density to 18 units which would be more in character with the neighborhood.

The numbered items below correlate to the questions asked in the Town Application for a Variance.

1. Granting the variance would not be contrary to the public interest because:

Granting this variance would allow for the productive use of the existing property. In general the areas surrounding this property consist of a mixture of housing stock with increased densities. Given this the proposed development of the subject property would be in harmony with the surroundings. This proposal will therefore not have a negative impact on the neighborhood, the public health, safety or welfare and as such would not be contrary to the public interest.

2. If the Variance were granting, the spirit of the ordinance would be observed because:

The proposal for this site is consistent with the surround areas. We believe the spirit of the ordinance is to manage development so that there is harmony in neighborhoods with adequate buffering and separation between properties. When you look at the proposed development and its surroundings you can see that the proximity of the surrounding developments actually burdens the subject property. Due to this the best development for this property is a single multi-family residential building. This development is most consistent with the surroundings and allows for increased separation and buffering to the neighboring developments. When you contemplate these factors we believe this proposal is in spirit with the ordinance. This project will also address an increasing local demand for apartments, will increase the Town tax base and will allow reasonable use of the subject property with no measurable negative impact on the neighborhood, the public health, safety or welfare. For all of these reasons we believe that granting the variance would observe the spirit of the ordinance.

Variance Criteria - (Variance From Section 5.03.4A)

Tax Map Parcel 43-61, Ponemah Hill Road

3. Granting the variance would do substantial justice because:

Substantial justice is done when the loss of denying a variance exceeds the gain to the general public in strictly enforcing the ordinance.

In this instance granting this variance would allow for the productive use of the property. The proposed use would be consistent with its surroundings and the proposed layout would provide adequate buffering to the abutting properties. This project would have minimal impacts on local services, would increase the tax base for the Town and would address a local demand for residential housing.

On the other hand we do not see how denying the variance would result in an appreciable gain to the public.

Thus, granting this variance will do substantial justice.

4. Granting the Variance would not diminish the value of surrounding properties because:

This requested variance will not diminish the character of the neighborhood as this type of development at the requested density already exists on the neighboring properties. Since this proposal is in harmony with the surroundings the proposed development should not produce any different or significant traffic, noise, or odors or other detrimental impacts to the surrounding area. Granting this variance, therefore, will not result in a diminution of property values for surrounding properties.

5. Unnecessary Hardship

A. Owing to special conditions of the property that distinguish it from other properties in the area, denial of the variance would result in unnecessary hardship because:

1. No fair and substantial relationship exists between the general public purpose of the ordinance provision and the specific application of that provision to the property because:

Section 5.03.4(A) of the Milford Zoning Ordinance limits the density of multi-family residential developments to 5 units per acre. The subject property is surrounded by developments with higher unit counts so this proposal would be in harmony with the neighborhood. When you look at the proposed development and its surroundings you can see that the proximity of the surrounding developments actually burden the subject property. Due to this the best development for this property is a single multi-family residential building and when you contemplate this style development there are certain efficiencies that warrant a minimum number of units as proposed. This development is most consistent with the surroundings and allows for increased separation and buffering to the neighboring developments. When you contemplate these factors we believe this proposal is in spirit with the ordinance. When you consider these factors we do not believe that a fair and substantial relationship exists between the general public purpose of the ordinance provision and the specific application of that provision to the property. This development will not burden local services and will not be a detriment to the surroundings. This proposal will actually increase the Town tax base, be consistent with its surroundings and will address a housing need for the community. For all of these reasons, we do not believe that a fair and substantial relationship exists between the general public purpose of the ordinance provision and the specific application of that provision to the property.

2. The proposed use is a reasonable one because:

We believe that the proposed use is a reasonable one for all of the reasons previously stated. The following is an outline of why we believe the proposed use is reasonable:

- Granting this variance would allow for the productive use of the exist property.
- This development will be in harmony with the neighborhood and will not result in negative impacts to the surroundings.
- The development is sensitive to the surroundings and proposes a layout that maximizes separation and buffering to the adjacent properties and associated improvements.
- The design of the site will provide for all necessary services.
- The proposed development will address a local housing need and will increase the tax base for the community.

For all of the reasons we believe that the proposed use is reasonable.

B. Explain how, if the criteria in paragraph (A) are not established, an unnecessary hardship will be deemed to exist if, and only if, owing to special conditions of the property that distinguish it from other properties in the area, the property cannot be reasonably used in strict conformance with the ordinance, and a variance is therefore necessary to enable a reasonable use of it:

The subject parcel consists of approximately 1.94 acres and is currently vacant. When you look at the surrounding developments you will notice that they, in some, cases come very close to encroaching on the subject property. In fact you will see that the tree line and backyard areas in some instances does actually encroach on the subject property. When we considered this and the best layout for a development on the subject property we felt that a single multi-family building would be the best options as it would allow us to compress the overall disturbance to the property and maximize the separation to the abutting developments. We believe this is the best and most reasonable way to approach developing the subject property. When you contemplate this style development there are certain efficiencies that warrant a minimum number of units which is what this application proposes. Given this, we believe that the size and geometry of the subject property along with the surrounding improvements that in some cases encroach onto the subject property create existing special conditions that distinguish this property from other properties in the area. We further believe that these conditions require a variance to allow for the best and most reasonable development of the property.

C. Notwithstanding paragraph (B) above, a Variance may be granted without finding a hardship arising from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance when reasonable accommodations are necessary to allow a person or persons with a recognized physical disability to reside in or regularly use the premises, provided that:

1. The variance requested under this paragraph shall be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of the Zoning Ordinance because: Not applicable

VARIANCE: A variance is an authorization, which may be granted under special circumstances, to use your property in a way that is not permitted under the strict terms of the zoning ordinance.

If you are applying for a variance, you must first have some form of determination that your proposed use is not permitted without a variance. Most often, this determination is a denial of a building permit. A copy of the determination must be attached to your application.

For a variance to be legally granted, you must show that your proposed use meets all five (5) of the following conditions:

- a. Granting the Variance would not be contrary to the public interest.

A variance would be considered contrary to the public interest if it unduly and to a marked degree violated the basic zoning objectives of the Zoning Ordinance. Will the variance alter the essential character of the neighborhood or threaten the health, safety, or general welfare of the public?

- b. Granting the Variance would observe the spirit of the ordinance.

This requires that the effect of the variance be evaluated in light of the goals of the zoning ordinance.

- c. Substantial justice would be done by granting the Variance.

Substantial justice is done when any loss to the individual is not outweighed by a gain to the general public.

- d. Granting the Variance would not diminish the value of surrounding property.

The applicant, to convince the Zoning Board must explain that granting the variance will not decrease the value of surrounding property.

- e. Denial of the Variance would result in an unnecessary hardship.

The first requirement is that there are special conditions or characteristics applying to the property (such as, but not limited to, exceptional narrowness, shallowness, or shape of the property, or exceptional topographical conditions), that distinguish it from other properties in the area. Because of these special conditions, no fair and substantial relationship exists between the general public purposes of the ordinance provision and the specific application of that provision to the property. And finally, the proposed use must be a reasonable one. You must explain what makes the property unique and why a "hardship" would be created if the terms of the ordinance were strictly applied.

In lieu of a claim of unnecessary hardship, the Variance may be granted when reasonable accommodations are necessary to allow a person or persons with a recognized physical disability to reside in or regularly use the premises, provided that any Variance sought shall be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of the zoning ordinance and the Variance shall survive only so long as the particular person or persons have a continuing need to use the premises. To meet this criterion, explain the accommodations that are necessary and identify the person or persons and provide evidence of their disability.
